READER'S DIGEST

MANAGING EDITOR • Fulton Oursler, Jr.

Dear Mrs. Riney:

Thank you for your kind words about LEGEND. You are quite right, I believe, to draw Mr. Epstein's attention to the discrepancy concerning the foliage on the oak tree in Dallas. You may be sure that his book editors are aware of this. We, in turn, are gratified that the error did not find its way into our condensation.

Sincerely,

Fulton Oursler

My words about "Legend" were not kind. They were critical of Epstein's use of wrong facts. I wrote him that Esptein misused Readers Digest money.

Sincerely
Barbara Godsi Riney

(OVER)

In Epstein's book he said there were no leaves on the trees near the Book Depository, therefore allowing more time for Oswald's running & shooting.
